The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 20-25 and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Freis.

Freis discloses reacting polyether polyols made from ethylene oxide with phenyl isocyanate (see example 1). In col. 4, line 25-26, he discloses initiating the polyether with ethanol amines. He differs from the claims by disclosing the tertiary amine initiator in a list with four other possible initiators.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to choose one initiator from a limited list.

Claim 26 is objected to for depending on rejected claims.
